are the last two days of the
Grande Fête Anniversaire

Each sale has had that prime requisite of satisfactory trading—Mutuality. Customers have been pleased. We have made new friends and more firmly cemented long existing friendships.

The special values have been wonderful. Our announcements have been conservatively made in accordance with long established custom. The Grande Fête Anniversaire has been a complete success.

You are earnestly invited to come today and tomorrow, or both, and secure your share of the economies we have provided for every member of the Home and for the Home itself.

Special values, of extraordinary interest in every Department of the Store.

When the Store's doors close on Saturday night the Grande Fête Anniversaire will have gone into history a memorable and an honorable event in the retail merchandising of the first Department Store in America, which was also the first Store to move uptown and open up the present greatest retail section of the United States.

CHARGES WIFE STOLE AND OPPOSES GRANTING ALIMONY

Huband Says She Not Only Took Money From Him, but Neighbors, Too.

A husband suing his wife for separation on the ground not only that she stole money from his pockets but that she was accused of stealing from neighbors appeared before Supreme Court Justice Sutherland yesterday to oppose her motion for alimony. The suit in question was brought by Julius Fleischman against Mrs. Lena Fleischman, now living at 222 East Eighty-first street.

Fleischman, who is an inspector for an electric light company, told the court that almost from the time he was married in 1910 his wife had committed a series of thefts and larcenies, and had obtained money from neighbors through false and fraudulent pretenses, which became a matter of common knowledge in the neighborhood where they lived and resulted in such shame and disgrace for him that he was compelled to move elsewhere.

The husband said that when living at 122 East 102nd street his wife stole from him and neighbors, and that she also "caused a sensation" by alarming the neighborhood of a burglary in their home, in which she said that $30 in cash, three rings, a gold watch and other pieces of jewelry were stolen. She reported the case to the police and had detectives working on it, but Fleischman alleged that his wife did the job herself and pawned the jewelry she took.

Fleischman said that the pretended burglary caused him so much annoyance he moved to 330 Forty-fifth street, Brooklyn, and in that house his wife took $10 worth of preserved fruits from him, and that she had stolen from him $3 a week from his pockets on an average, and said that on one occasion she stole $5 from him.

The wife denied her husband's allegations and said that he never supported her properly, because he left her only $50 a month to live on. The court directed Fleischman to pay her $5 a week.

ROSENTHAL AND BOURKE FREED

Charges Arising From Fatal Auto Ride Quickly Dismissed.

Michael Rosenthal, the young shoe salesman, whose reticence regarding the death of Mrs. Ruth F. Reid of 275 Clinton avenue, Brooklyn, in an automobile accident on Snake Hill Wednesday night and the subsequent disappearance of her jewels led the police to hold him on charges of homicide and grand larceny, was discharged on both counts yesterday afternoon by Magistrate Nash after a brief examination in the New Jersey avenue court. A charge of homicide against John Bourke, his companion in the fatal ride, was also dismissed.

The death of Mrs. Reid was so clearly accidental that Magistrate Nash dismissed the homicide charges in short order, but the grand larceny charge against Rosenthal was scrutinized more closely. The police alleged that he had taken the chamois bag containing jewels valued at $5,000 from the woman's body and had failed to mention that it was in his pocket when asked point blank what he had removed from her.

Against the suspicions of the police was the unanimous belief of Mrs. Reid's family in Rosenthal's innocence of intent to steal. It was Mabel Frith, a sister of Mrs. Reid, who had indirectly caused his arrest by asking the police for the jewel bag, but she was emphatic yesterday in her belief that Rosenthal had merely forgotten, removing the jewels in the stress following the accident, if he had removed them.

Miss Frith said her sister and Rosenthal had been school chums and their friendship had continued with the consent and approval of her husband, Anderson Reid, after she had married him nine years ago.

"He was always glad to see her surrounded by young people," said Miss Frith, "and those who were in the auto were all well known to him. Mr. Reid wanted her to go to the party in Cypress Hills, from which she was returning when the accident happened, and urged her to go. He could not attend because he thought his business required him. There is no excuse for any other story being told in this matter."

EDITORIAL

The Macy Store is always a busy place. Merchants from the world over come, see and marvel at its constant activity—the streams of people going and coming; the very large percentage of all the people that enter the doors, who actually make purchases.

But the Grande Fête Anniversaire has broken records.

Have you secured your share of the special values provided in every Department of the Store for this event?

These wonderful values are what have led to the record breaking. People who bought on the first or second day are coming back for more. Their friends and relatives are coming. Such a volume of business! You'd think it was the week before X'mas!

Come to-morrow. As we have said before—a veritable feast of special values—in every Department, covering practically every requirement of the home and its occupants.

Suggestions, only, in this announcement.

As you enter the door be sure to get one of the twenty-four page booklets listing several hundred special values that do not appear in any of our newspaper announcements.

Men's Wristlet Watches

SMART New Yorkers are, in ever increasing numbers, adopting the Londoner's habit of wearing a Wristlet Watch.

For street wear—for motoring, for golf and the out-of-door, in general—these watches are convenient, practical, useful, and smart.

Macy's Wristlet Watches are designed for practical use—they do not fill the sleeve, catch the shirt-cuff or fray the coat. They contain movements specially constructed to stand sudden changes of temperature, rapid and often violent movement and constant change of plane.

A Wristlet (or "Strap") Watch at $9.74 has a sterling silver flat model watch, with a 7-jewel lever movement. The light tan-color pigskin strap with protecting back, has a sterling silver buckle. The Watch is slightly larger than a quarter of a dollar.

A Wristlet Watch at $11.74, in jewel size, of sterling silver and fitted with a fine 7-jewel Swiss movement, has a strong pigskin strap with silver buckle.

A Wristlet Watch at $14.49, is of sterling silver, oval in shape. It is curved to fit the wrist and is finished in "Russian" black enamel-work. The strap is of black suede with gun metal buckle. The movement, of Swiss make, is of excellent quality.

Finer Wristlet Watches for men, ranging in price up to $29.89.

the accident would talk about it yesterday, except to admit that there were two other men in the car whose names they refused to divulge, however. It was one of these men who sent in the call for the ambulance and notified Miss Frith of the accident by telephone.

OLD AIRSHIP SUIT IS UP.

Court Finally to Hear Arguments in Wright-Curtis Action.

BUFFALO, Nov. 14.—On Monday and Tuesday next the final arguments in the long pending suit brought by the late Wilbur Wright against Glenn H. Curtiss and the Herring-Curtiss Company of Hammondsport, N. Y., will be heard in the United States District Court before Judge Hazel.

The plaintiff argues that the defendants are infringing on a device for maintaining equilibrium in the air, the patent on which is held by Mr. Wright. Damages and a permanent injunction are asked. The defense denies infringement on the Wright patent, alleging it is operating under patents granted before the Wright patent was secured.

TWO FIREMEN MAY BE FIRED.

Charged With Purchasing Goods and Neglecting to Pay.

Fireman George Hecker of Engine 5 was put on trial at Fire Headquarters yesterday charged with holding off his grocer, butcher, shoe dealer and other tradesmen.

Ernest Langberg, a grocer of 280 Flushing avenue, Queens, complained that the fireman got $42 worth of goods from him last March and April and had paid only $5 on account. The fireman's salary is $1,400 a year.

Deputy Commissioner Olvany read off a list of other debts and said that there was a garnishment of $100 on the fireman's salary.

"You are the kind of man that brings discredit on the Fire Department," the trial Commissioner said. "You are a disgrace to a fine body of fire fighters. You promised me last June that you would pay this grocer before August, but you haven't done so. We cannot have such men in the department."

The Commissioner recommended his dismissal.

A similar delinquent was Fireman Arthur A. Finnigan of Engine 20. Last May he bought two suits of clothes and shirts and underwear for $64 and hasn't paid a dollar to the dealer. The Commissioner read a list of other debts and recommended that Finnigan be fired.

DIVORCE FOR CURTIS BELL.

Wife Admitted Guilt in Letter to Husband.

MOUNT VERNON, Nov. 14.—An interlocutory decree of divorce was filed today by Supreme Court Justice Tompkins to Curtis Bell, a photographer of 585 Fifth avenue, New York, from his wife, Kathleen Tift Bell.

J. F. Marvin was named as correspondent. It being alleged that on April 10 last Mrs. Bell met Marvin on a New Haven train and that later the couple spent two days at a hotel in New Haven as J. F. Marvin and wife. Mrs. Bell admitted her guilt in a letter she wrote to her husband.
